AGENCY FOR BUSINESS WITH U. S. PATENT OFFICE, WASHINGTON.

No. 22 State Street, - Boston.

IN 1846 the subscriber was appointed by the Commissioner of Patents Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, in accordance with the 10th Section of Act of 1837.

Having relinquished the Agency for the transmission of Models, and adopted a more expeditious mode of sending them to the Patent Office where by a Patent may be procured about six weeks sooner, he continues to forward them free of expense—to prepare Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all the necessary Papers and Drawings for Patents, and to render advice on legal and scientific matters respecting the same. Patents secured in Europe and other countries.

By application at this office, inventors are saved the time and expense of a journey to Washington and delay there, as well as of personal trouble in obtaining their patents. They also have the advantage of verbally explaining their inventions, and consulting in respect to them, matters, in general, of paramount importance in order to obtain correct specifications and claims. The experience of sixteen year's practice, an extensive collection of rare works, inclusions, &c. on mechanical subjects, the Patent Laws, and patents of different countries, collected at much expense during the long time this office has been established, together with accounts here kept of inventions patented at Washington, enable the subscriber to afford to inventors, desirous of procuring Patents, assistance and information which in other respects might be difficult of attainment.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents.

WASHINGTON, JULY 21, 1849.—During the time I occupied the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. EDDY, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office as Solicitor for procuring Patents. There were few, if any, persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring Inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, in pushing their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. Late Commissioner of Patents.

THE ROAD TO HEALTH!

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

CURE OF A DISORDERED LIVER AND BAD DIGESTION.

Copy of a Letter from Mr. R. W. Kirkus, Chemist, 1, Prescot Street, Liverpool, dated 6th June, 1851.

To Professor Holloway,

SIR,—Your Pills and Ointment have stood the highest on our sale list as Proprietary Medicines for some years. A customer to whom I can refer for any inquiries, desires me to let you know the particulars of her case. She had been troubled for years with a disordered liver and bad digestion. On the last occasion, however, the virulence of the attack was so alarming, and the inflammation setting so severely, that doubts were entertained of her not being able to bear up under it; fortunately she was induced to try your Pills, and she informs me that after the first, and each succeeding dose, she had great relief. She continued to take them, and although she used only three Boxes, she is now in the enjoyment of perfect health. I could have sent you many more cases, but the above from the severity of the attack, and the speedy cure, I think, speaks much in favor of your astonishing Pills.

DR. MORSE'S INVIGORATING CORDIAL

FOR GENITAL DEBILITY, IMPOTENCY, INCONTINENCE, OR NOCTURNAL EMISSIONS, &c. This astonishing success which has attended this invaluable medicine, for Loss of Muscular Energy, Physical Incapacity, and General Prostration, or any of the consequences of youthful indiscretion, or indulgence in the season in riper years, renders it the most valuable preparation ever discovered. In fact as a remedy for the above complaints it stands unrivalled and alone. There is no other reliable remedy, or any that has authentically received the sanction of the Medical Faculty. The WONDERFUL VEGETABLE PRODUCTION of which this medicine is composed has been tested and its virtues proclaimed by the most eminent of the faculty of London, Paris, and the chief cities of Europe, as well as by eminent Physicians in country. It is the only infallible remedy for NERVOUS, HEAD and MIND COMPLAINTS—the great physical blessing sought for and never before found, the one agent that can administer to MIND DISEASE. It will remove all nervous affections, DEPRESSION, EXCITEMENT, incapacity to study or business, loss of MEMORY, CONFUSION, the sights of Self Reproach, fear of insanity, &c. It will restore the impotent, renew the health of those who have destroyed it by sensual Excesses, or evil practices. It has been said by some that these diseases, emissions, &c., were incurable. This however is not the fact.

DR. MORSE'S INVIGORATING CORDIAL has, and is constantly curing these complaints—relieving the mental and bodily incapacity of the unfortunate sufferer, as the following testimony of the names received will conclusively show:

Dr. J. Woodward, of the Massachusetts Insane Hospital, writes of one of his patients being cured by using this cordial, thus:—"It gives me pleasure to inform you that one of my patients, within a fortnight procured some at your hospital. He tells me that he has not had a single emission since he commenced taking it, while before he had two or three a week. When he applied to me, says Dr. W., "I thought it hardly possible for him ever to regain his full strength." I prescribed the usual medicines used in those cases in the hospital, but they had no effect. In the meantime he purchased some of your Cordial, which has effected a cure. I am sure no other medicine would. I shall ever recommend it whenever an opportunity occurs."

The nature of the maladies relieved by this Cordial are generally such as to leave the publication of certificates of cures subject to questions, and the proprietor could produce a host of the most complete testimony to show that the great reputation it enjoys was not accidentally obtained, but is firmly based upon its positive and apparently infallible virtues. In all directions are to be found the happy parents of healthy offspring, who would not have been so but for this extraordinary preparation. And it is equally potent for many diseases for which it is recommended.

THE MEDICAL JOURNALS have not in a single instance that has been authenticated, given their sanction to any other preparation for the above complaints. In cases, in many violent and desperate cases, effected radical cures, after patients had been abandoned, and their condition pronounced hopeless by medical practitioners of high professional character.

THE COMMON EXPRESSION

Of those who have used this Extract is—"I had heard your Cordial highly spoken of, but was one of the incredulous in regard to its merits, having tried various medicines sold for the same purpose, (different Sarsaparillas) without deriving any benefit. I had almost given up all hope of obtaining relief, when I purchased some of your Cordial. I had no faith whatever of its benefiting me—but it has. I feel stronger, have had no emissions since, although it is not three weeks. I am satisfied the half a dozen bottles I took will cure me."

Another says—"I had consulted several distinguished physicians. Some said I could not be cured, others prescribed this thing and that but I found no relief until I procured some of your Cordial. Simplicity it completely cured me."

A Gentleman says—"I was surprised at the effect your Cordial had. Why had I not heard of it before? It would have saved me so much expense, besides a care of mental and bodily suffering."

CAUTION—Ask for Dr. Morse's Cordial and take no other, as there are worthless imitations which its unrivalled excellence, fame and popularity have brought into the market. It will not hurt the most delicate Female, but do good. Beware of all other Cordials, &c., (only imitations.)

It is put up in pint bottles, with the words Dr. Morse's Vigorating Cordial, blown on the glass. Price $3 per bottle; 2 bottles $5, 6 bottles $12, and $24 per dozen.

N. B.—Important advice accompanying each bottle.

Notice.—Persons consulting of physical inability from causes above named may confidentially consult D. Morse personally or by letter (post paid) at his office, 78 Hurlbury street, Boston. The necessary advice and medicine for the speedy removal of such disability, will be safely forwarded to the writer's address.

Dr. M. is prepared to warrant a perfect cure in every case or take no pay.

Prepared by A. Morse, M. D., principal office, 192 Broadway, New York city; sold in Boston at the Dr's New England Office, 78 Hudbury street.

And sold in Bangor by D. HUGBEE, No. 5 Kenduskeag Bridge; in Portland by Edward Mason, Middle Street.

The following certificate from Dr. John C. Warren of Boston, was given 16 years since, but will last forever:

BOSTON, January 7, 1835

Having had occasion to observe that some persons afflicted with Hernia, have suffered much from the want of a skillful workman in accommodating Trusses to the peculiarities of their cases, I have taken pains to inform myself of the competency of Mr. J. F. Foster, to supply the deficiency occasioned by the death of Mr. Beath. After some months of observation of his work, I am well satisfied that Mr. Foster is well acquainted with the manufacture of these instruments, and ingenious in accommodating them to the variety of cases which occur. I feel called upon to recommend him to my professional brethren, and to the public as a person well fitted to supply their wants in regard to these important articles.

JOHN C. WARREN, M. D. Boston.

CERTIFICATE.—The following certificate is from Professor Stuart of Andover Theological Seminary:

The undersigned having occasion to employ Mr. J. Frederick Foster, of Boston, in making and fitting Trusses for the relief of Hernia, takes great pleasure in recommending him to the favorable notice of such persons as may be afflicted with that and similar complaints. Mr. Foster's success in the manufacture, and adapting them to the body, giving ease and comfort to the wearer, surpasses, (so far as our experience goes,) any other manufacturer of the article.

The numerous testimonials which he has received, together with the recommendations of his principal surgeon, Dr. J. C. Warren, are sufficient guaranty for all who may favor Mr. F., that his instruments will give entire satisfaction, and he will satisfy all reasonable demands for an equitable compensation.

OF NORTH CAROLINA.

Cattle Show.

The annual Cattle Show for Penobscot county was held in this city yesterday. The short feed on account of the drought discouraged many farmers from making an exhibition of their stock, and the cold dreary rain of Tuesday prevented others from starting who had intended to do so, and consequently the show of stock was not as large or brilliant as it otherwise would have been. There were, however, in the pens of the Society excellent specimens of stock, and which gave much satisfaction. The show of Swine and poultry was larger than usual and embraced the best varieties, and those which have been most approved by judges in such matters in other sections of the country. It is unnecessary for us to particularize, as the reports of the Committees will embrace all the details, and it will be sufficient for us to give a general view.

In the manufacturing department there were less in the number of entries than would have been, had the matter been fully understood, and had the weather on Tuesday been favorable. There were, however, many rich articles, the handiwork of the Ladies of our county, and there were several specimens from the various manufactories.

The Messrs. Burnham made a beautiful display of their skill in the Daguerreotype art by the exhibition of a great number of Miniatures which from their truthfulness and delicacy and artistic elegance attracted great attention.

There were specimens from the manufacturers of Edge Tools, which are rarely equalled at any exhibition of the arts, and which cannot be excelled. We may mention those made by Mr. Broad as evidence.

The exhibition of butter and cheese was quite as large and excellent as that at any exhibition of the Society for a number of years past. And which, we venture to say, will be greatly increased in future years, now that the Cattle Show has been permanently established in this city.

The display of fruits and vegetables was larger than usual, and gave very great satisfaction and pleasure.

On the whole, although the exhibition did not come nearly up to what it would have been under more favorable circumstances, yet it has contributed its proportion to the general cause of culture. It has turned another leaf in the book of deeds, as to the capacity of our county to provide for her own wants, in all that is essential for the products of the soil.

The Agricultural Society as the leader in the course of the culture of the soil has at length seen the necessity of making this city the head quarters of the enterprise, from which encouragement should go to every branch of industry and art, and henceforth there will be new interest in the matter, new elements are at work, and greater progress will be made, until at length these annual shows will be fully organized and results, as they were intended to do, in something substantial, practical and beneficial.

The exhibition of manufactures was held at Bethel Hall, on Fore street, it having been generously offered to the use of the Society by the committee of the society worshipping there, and at a time, the streets being muddy, when admission was in itself objectionable.

The large assembly in the Hall was addressed in the afternoon by Hon. Hannibal Hamlin, J. S. Sayward, P. B. Mills, Joseph Bartlett, Esq., editor of the Jeffersonian, and E. F. Crane, Esq., of Kenduskeag.

The Case of Dr. Kittredge.

The Journal of Commerce contradicts the statement that Hon. Mr. Marsh, American ambassador at Constantinople, had, after visiting Athens, left for Trieste, entirely satisfied that Dr. King had been properly tried by the courts of Greece, to whose decision he was bound to submit. The Journal says that Mr. Marsh visited Athens, and thoroughly investigated the whole affair; that he was satisfied that great injustice had been done Mr. King, and he made up his report which was at once forwarded to the United States Secretary of State. Mr. Marsh then left for Upper Italy, to await the decision of the U. S. Government.

New York, Sept. 30th.

The block of buildings in Atlantic street, between Columbia and Willow, Brooklyn, were destroyed by fire at 2 o'clock this morning. Two men and one woman perished in the flames. The loss will exceed fifty thousand dollars.

The Right Rev. Bishop Chase, of the Protestant Episcopal Church, is dead. His death was caused by injuries received by being thrown from his carriage.

There were 28 stickers and 19 yellow fever cases in N. Orleans last week.

The caterpillar and fall worm have made their appearance in Essex county, Georgia, and have done considerable injury to the cotton crop.

The total number of deaths by cholera at Rochester the present year was 600. The damage to business is estimated at a million of dollars.

General Scott's Tour—Brilliant Receptions, Speeches &c.

MAYSVILLE, (Ky.) Sept. 25.

The steamboat Scioto started from Portsmouth with about 250 passengers, including the different delegations from Lancaster, Lewis, and Scioto. Coy's Gun Squad, with artillery, and two bands of music, accompanied them. The progress along the river was marked by demonstrations at every landing.

At Concord, a large number of persons assembled, lining the banks of the river. When the boat reached the landing, the citizens of Kentucky crowded on board, and the boat was compelled to stop half an hour. Many soldiers came on board, and one old soldier, who had fought with Scott through two wars, was much affected when he shook hands with his old commander.

At Manchester, Ohio, the greatest demonstration took place. The boat reached this place at half an hour before dusk. The banks were crowded with people, and cannon echoed the roar of the artillery on board. Across the landing was spread a broad banner, bearing the inscription:

"One hundred cheers for old Chippewa!"

Delegations came on board, inviting Gen. Scott to land, which he did. Gen. Scott said:

Citizens of Manchester:—I am not travelling about making speeches for political purposes, but as a citizen of our common country, employed as I have ever been, actively in her service. But when my heart is touched, my lips refuse to remain silent. The banner set before my eyes calls up memories which always affect me, and scenes, which I know many of you yourselves have witnessed, and events in which you have borne honorable parts. My time is brief; but from my heart I thank you for the kind welcome you have given a traveller and an old soldier, who has spent many years in the service of his country.

An old man, ninety-six years old, who was one of the earliest settlers in that section of Ohio, was here introduced to General Scott. He said:

General:—I hope God will spare my life long enough for the last vote I shall ever cast, to assist to place the hero of his country in the highest office she has to bestow.

The General appeared much affected at these remarks.

About half-past 8 he reached Maysville, where the demonstrations were very hearty. Fires were lighted at a dozen different points, and all the hotels and dwellings along the banks of the river were brilliantly illuminated, giving a magnificent effect to the whole scene. Several bands of music, and numerous cannon were placed along the heights, and as the boat neared the shore, the sweet strains of the music and thunder of the cannon gave notice of the hero's approach. Several thousand persons thronged to the landing, compelling the cortege to light its way through to the hotel.

Governor Metcalf of Kentucky, and General Morgan, with the delegation, came on board and received Gen. Scott from the Portsmouth delegation.

The General addressed a few words of thanks to his Ohio friends, took leave of them, and then proceeded to land with the Kentucky delegation.

Immediately on reaching the shore, the cortege was met by the Hon. William H. Wardsworth, President of the City Council, who welcomed the old hero in a short and pertinent address, to which General Scott replied.

FELLOW CITIZENS—Gentlemen of Kentucky:—My good fellow citizens, it is indeed a proud and gratifying thing to approach the glorious State of old Kentucky, and to be welcomed on its threshold. Under the present circumstances, I have scarcely words with which to thank you for the fervent warmth of your reception. I have heard the eloquent and affecting address of your orator; I see brilliant illuminations on your shores; I meet crowds of my country men assembled to greet an old soldier. It is a magnificent, a glorious spectacle.—Most grateful is it to my heart, and most gratifying to my feelings.

My countrymen, if ever I deserved any gratitude at your hands, I have indeed, been overpaid. Whatever services I have rendered my country are all repaid by one moment like the present. A demonstration such as this, cannot fail to be grateful to me. You have met me, not in the character of a politician, but in that of a soldier, whose best days have been spent, and I trust honorably spent, in the service of our common country. You have met me without regard to parties and political affinities; for I am informed, and doubt not, there are both Whigs and Democrats to do honor to one who has labored long for his country—who are willing to credit me for the will to do, rather than for deeds I have done. Thus do I receive your kind welcome; receive it as coming not only from Whigs, but Democrats as well; not only from native, but also from adopted citizens. I know I am approaching a land of patriotism and valor; of patriotism displayed on the field and in the Senate on various occasions.

I am aware, indeed, that this is Kentucky that I see before me, and the remembrance of her great names in history crowd upon me. Brilliant is the array which her heroes living and dead, make in our country's history, and never will the memory of her Clay, and her hundreds of other heroes pass away.

My friends, as your brilliant orator has truly remarked, I am on a mission which has nothing to do with political topics; my business here is of a nature known to all, and I come among you as a traveller, and public officer in the discharge of a public duty. Allow me, then, to thank you all, for the honor you have done me by this reception. I am indeed gratified, and return you all I have to offer, the warm thanks of an old soldier.

The cheers of the multitude were very enthusiastic, and the delegation had to push their way up to the Lee House, where rooms were provided. On reaching the Hotel the General was loudly called for, and appeared on the balcony and said:

Citizens of Maysville:—I thank you once again, and I cannot thank you too often, for the fervid warmth of your reception. You have done me honor, and I am at a loss for words with which to express my gratefulness for your kindness.

Since I have been travelling through the States of Pennsylvania and Ohio, I have everywhere met with warm friends, and now in Kentucky I find the same good feelings prevail. I am the more gratified by these indications of friendliness, by being in the good State of old Kentucky, by the side of whose brave sons I have fought and bled.

Kentucky, as famous for the valor of her troops, as for the beauty of her daughters, knows well how to value a soldier; for I have never known of a battle-field within her reach, where her sons were not present, and doing honor to their country.

My friends, I thank you cordially, once more, for your kindness, and now, good night.

Loud huzzas for Scott, followed. The General then retired.

A boat from Ripley, Ohio, with some 300 persons on board, arrived, and the visitors were presented and called out the General once more, he making a brief speech, saying:

Ladies and Gentlemen of Ripley:—I return you many thanks for coming such a distance to meet me. Your neighborhood is one of deep interest to me, as being associated with the memories of those with whom I am familiar. You live in Brown county, named after my old friend and fellow soldier, Major General Brown, who won his laurels in the war of 1812-15. He was a patriot, and a soldier, and honored his country. Your county, named after Ripley, was a soldier, and a hero, and a patriot, and a statesman, and a christian. Ohio may be proud of her Ripley, and Brown, and Adams, and Meigs, and Worthington, and Tiffin, and a host of others, who have made her name honorable among the sovereignties of the land.

Gentlemen, you have also a township of Scott, named, may I presume, after my humble self. I understand that Gen. Hamer belonged to the town adjoining yours. He, too, was my friend, my brave and noble friend, and who is there that did not deeply lament his death. All these circumstances, my friends, make your present visit very gratifying to me, and render me desirous of returning my thanks for the same. I must also thank you for an invitation to attend a large party meeting held at your place yesterday. I have long laid down a rule not to attend party meetings, and am not now violating that rule. I am now on a mission of public duty, and my meetings with my countrymen are involuntary. I could not have met you by invitation, but when such meetings spring up in the path of my duty, I hail them with satisfaction.

My friends, I once more thank you for the honor of shaking hands with your ladies and gentlemen. Thanks again and again, and once more good night to you all.

Loud huzzas, amidst which the General blew out the light on the balcony, near where he stood, and retired.

Dancing was afterwards got up, and the Ripley and Portsmouth delegations remained over night.

During the evening General Scott was introduced to the widow of Gen. Hamer. He addressed a few words to her as to her late husband and his friendship for him. Mrs. Hamer was much affected.

The crowd in Maysville reached fully 5000.

The delegations left this morning, and Generals Scott and Lawson went privately over to Blue Lick in a carriage. They will remain there until Tuesday. They are to meet Gen. Wool there, and thence proceed to the Paris Agricultural Fair; thence to Lexington, Louisville, and Cincinnati, through Ohio to Sandusky, and by the Lake to Buffalo, N. Y.

The General made no speech before leaving this morning.

At Washington, a few miles on the road, a good number of citizens met the carriage, and proceeded to the next town in company with it.

A delegation of young ladies attended on Gen. Scott this evening and this morning, headed by a daughter of Gen. Morgan, the acknowledged belle of Kentucky.

While Gen. Scott was at Columbus, Ohio, he was waited upon by Judge Heyl, in behalf of some of the German citizens of Columbus, who wished to have the attention of the old hero called to a paragraph from the Westbote, a German paper published in Columbus, and containing the statement that Gen Scott tied to one tree and flogged fifteen Germans, while in Mexico. Other charges, of his having hanged others, cruelly and unjustly, were also referred to. The Ohio State Journal gives the reply of Gen. Scott to the vile slanders. The protest of Gen. Scott was in the following emphatic language:

"New, and before unknown to me, are such things as have now been told me. They surprise and they pain me. They strike at once concern all that I value personally, and aim a blow at all that wherein I know myself, I have the highest pride. They attack my own identity! The principles for which I had believed, I need never search in my own bosom in vain, are here undermined or denied me! I am met with charges of injustice and cruelty—while leading an American army through Mexico, and while participating alike in its trials and its triumphs.

Gentlemen, it was my lot to lead an American army upon a foreign field. I went, resolved to sustain, in the face front of my progress, the high-tide-water mark of our own American civilization, in all its moral and civil virtue. The standard of our own, and not the practice of that foreign country, was the standard which I sought for the government of men's passions and the control of the license and excesses of war. Alike to Americans, whether native or of foreign birth, and to Mexicans, I declared my purpose, and exhibited my principles of action.

I promulgated the martial code. Doubtless you all have read it. I deemed it necessary. I could do nothing without it. It introduced the spirit of our progress, and held amenable to punishment all who forgot manhood, and threatened to bring shame upon our flag, dishonor to our arms, or a reproach upon our virtue! Without it, we had not conquered, or if we had conquered, the brightest trophy of our conquest had been wanting. It would have been a physical triumph, and a physical triumph alone. Humanity would have disowned us. I promulgated that code; Read it, and read it again, gentlemen, and then hear me witness, that it was in my heart, as it was almost hourly on my lips, for continued months, to carry with American arms, and under the American flag, even into the enemy's country, all the elements of social order, and that regard for personal right, that belonged to our own free institutions in the United States.

Yes, I sought to carry with me, and resolved to maintain, at all hazards, among my own command, and also that people among whom we should be thrown, that high standard of virtue and honor which we boasted at home. Had I not been less than an American, and recreant to the highest interests of humanity, and the age we rejoice in, it I had done less? They say I hanged some Germans and tied up and flogged others. Gentlemen, some persons were hanged in Mexico. The names of all of them I do not now recollect. Whether any were Germans or not, I know not. But for whatever, for what where they hanged? I hanged one for murder, gentlemen; I hanged one for rape upon an innocent young female, and for profane and wicked church robbery. All knew the law that was over them. Every man of them knew he would be held as answerable for vile misdeeds against the laws of God and man, as if he were then upon American soil.

For such crimes they suffered—for such crimes as here, in your own Ohio—a land of law—would have brought down upon them severe penalties, and with equal justice. Some did suffer death! But their trial was fair, impartial and upon the same principles of solid law upon which they would have been adjudged guilty here, among you. Do some say I hanged fifteen Germans, and that others were arraigned and flogged without cause of trial? Gentlemen, I know nothing of it. It is false—it is a lie—an invention, gentlemen—a lie. I challenged citizens before me. I see eminent lawyers here. And, gentlemen, you see my much excited. But is it not for cause? For one, who for fifty years has scarcely ever walked, rose, slept or eaten, or even taken a cup of cold water, in the field, the town, or the camp, but that his thoughts were of his country—her virtue, her renown—her honor; to be thus assailed—it is monstrous—it is intolerable! Gentlemen, I did, with a high hand, sustain the law, which, with uprightness in my heart, I determined to sustain. I did hang for murder. I did hang for rape. I did hang for treason and I flogged thieves and pickpockets! For, gentlemen, let me again say, I not only carried with me, but I resolved, with every resource I could command, to sustain, fearlessly and effectually, in its virtues and its choicest blessings, not only to my own command, but to defenceless and peaceable Mexicans, that civilization—yes, that Christian civilization, of which I was proud to believe the army might appear a worthy representative.

But, gentlemen, I was no respecter of persons. A American, Mexican—native born or foreign born—who ever knew the law and obeyed it not—whoever, reckless of his own responsibilities and the rights of others, trampled under foot and set at naught the law, that was over all, I punished. I did hang for the crimes stated, and I would have hung an hundred soldiers, if so many had been the offenders, if so many had been the offenders, and for this purpose and misdeed, I am made answerable to a charge against which my every feeling revolts, and which my whole nature and my whole life rebel. No, gentlemen, it is a lie, the charge as made, or that any were wrongfully punished, is false and groundless lie. I am not unthankful to my good friend who has told me of these things. It was right. But, gentlemen, I stand here before you, and declare as I have already declared, and again declare, that the principles that governed my command in Mexico, are those of my life. To that life in my country's service, I need not appeal in vain for an answer now. With equal freedom and confidence do I throw myself upon the honest verdict of every man, who, with me, served his country in the fields of Mexico."

The Columbus Journal says of this address:

"It is impossible to convey to the mind of the reader the manner in which this magnificent speech was uttered. It was lofty, splendidly eloquent, in the very highest acceptation of the term. The scathing, withering indignant look and tone with which the denial and denunciation were enunciated, startled, electrified the audience. It was an entire impromptu affair. Not a word had been premeditated—not an idea belore conned over. The foul charge was pointed out to him there, for the first time, and he fost not a moment till he branded it as its wicked enormity deserved. There are no more eloquent passages in the English language than he then and there uttered. Let it be published all over the land, that slander and calumny may hide their vile heads, in disgrace and shame."

Later From the Rio Grande.

New York Sept. 27.

The New Orleans Picayune has Rio Grande dates to the 14th inst. The National Guard of Matamoras, composed of 400 men, have declared their determination to sustain the representatives, and Senor Prieto for Governor. The Flag says that this Guard recently left Matamoras for Victoria, but for some cause not stated, returned and took a temporary residence on the American side of the river, and maintained a correspondence with a military commandant of Matamoras. The Flag adds that the principal cities of the State have pronounced against the Governor of the State, and in a week, some interesting scenes might be expected in Tamaulipas. The Flag warns the Mexicans however, that it is a violation of the law of neutrality to use our territory as a recruiting place. General Avidos had issued a proclamation warning the inhabitants against taking a hostile attitude towards the Government.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 27.

Judge McFarland was instantly killed this morning by an accident at his foundery, in Hollidaysburg. He was an estimable man and widely known throughout the States.

Judge McNeal, associate justice of Huntington county, Penn., was accidentally killed this morning at Gloucester.

A private letter from Santiago, received via Havana, states that another earthquake occurred on the 28th ult. The terrified inhabitants built temporary huts on the beach.

NORFOLK, Sept. 27.

A disease resembling the cholera or yellow fever, has suddenly broken out in Water street in this city. From thirty to forty cases have already occurred.

Among the passengers by the steamer Pacific was George W. Kendall, Esq., who has established himself upon a vast sheep farm in Texas. Mr. Kendall spent several weeks this summer in Scotland, purchasing sheep. He also employed farmers and shepherds in Scotland.

The Howard Dramatic Company.

The legitimate drama, great success, and crowded houses. The Hunchback, this evening.

This talented and deservedly popular dramatic company under the management of W. B. English, commenced their performances last Monday evening at the City Hall, to a crowded house; the gallery was thronged with ladies from some of the first families in the city.—The opening play was a new piece, called "Ingomar the Barbarian" a beautifully written play, replete with fine dramatic efforts, and touched in the sweetest language imaginable. The story is beautiful and the leading characters of Ingomar and Parthenia, were sustained in a masterly manner by Mr. Leman and Mrs. English, and the other parts were exceedingly well played, and the play made a decided hit and was most rapturously applauded.

Mr. Leman is one of the finest and most talented actors that has ever visited Bangor, with a powerful, voice, fine figure, and his bearing upon the stage is always pleasing.

Mrs. English, has also in the several characters in which she has appeared displayed great talent and experience, and rendered herself an especial favorite.

The plays of the Honey Moon and Martha Gibbs, could not be better performed in any Theatre than they have been here, by Mr. English's company, which is one of great talent.—We hope that Ingomar will be repeated, and in saying so, we do but re-echo the opinions of the citizens of Bangor.

This evening a great dramatic treat is offered in Knowles' celebrated play of the Hunchback, a piece that always draws good houses, and is sure to interest and please the audience. Master Walter is played by Leman, in which he is said to be unrivaled, and the heroine, Julia by Mrs. English. Mr. Brown is to sustain the part of Clifford, and great things are expected of him, by his many friends, whose name is legion. We hope to see the City Hall crowded tonight to see this piece, which is ranked in the catalogue of the company's triumphs.

To the Editor of the Whig and Courier.

I attended the annual Cattle Show, Exhibition and Fair of the Farmers' Club of Newport, in this county, on Wednesday the 16th inst.—Much interest was manifested, not only, by the members of the Club, but also by the Ladies, who contributed their full share in making the exhibition what it emphatically was, truly interesting and profitable. And notwithstanding the poor pastures and short feed, that caused much stock to be kept from the Show, yet there was a fine collection of beautiful cattle and horses of the best and improved breeds. I have attended many County Cattle Shows in this State, and have never seen the trial of the strength of oxen equal that in Newport, on this occasion. Cattle of common size, moved with ease a drag loaded with stones supposed to weigh fifty hundred, and from 8 or twelve men besides, each man that used the goad stick appeared to be a scientific teamster. The Agricultural, Horticultural and Manufacturing department of the exhibition was very interesting and reflects much credit on the farmers and their wives and daughters of Newport. The successful operation of the Farmers Club in Newport demonstrates to the world what an important influence can be exerted in favor of agriculture, by an association of a few individuals of energy and perseverance.

The most extraordinary discovery in the world is the Great Arabian Remedy for Man and Beast.

H. G. FARRELLE'S

CELEBRATED ARABIAN LINIMENT.

The beautiful and fertile region skirting the desert of Arabia, abounds with rare plants and odorous woods, whence are procured those aromatic gums and balsams of which this Liniment is composed, and by whose stimulating, unctuous and penetrating properties it is, when applied, diffused through the whole nervous system, allaying the most intense pain in a few minutes. Try it, when you will be convinced that no preparation possesses in so high a degree, in perfect analysis qualities. Its action is prompt and effective. It penetrates the flesh to the bone, relaxes contracted cords, restoring use to the limbs paralyzed for years, and where the flesh has wasted away, leaving nothing but skin and bone, excites a healthy action, causing new flesh to grow outward fill up the shrivelled parts. It restores the synovial fluid or joint water, and this is the reason why it has been so successful in diseases of the joints. In affections of the Spine, Liver, Lungs and Kidneys, the great remedy stands before any other ever produced. For ague cake or enlargement of the spleen, it is a specific. For any internal inflammation, you will find it gives great relief. It has no equal in the world for Rheumatism—Also, cramp, swelling, numbness weak joints, Spine and Chest pains, Wounds, chilblains, burns, sore throat, bites of insects and reptiles, salt rheum, warts, corns, mange, and indeed nearly all diseases which require an external application, and many others, are greatly benefited by it. It is used externally with great success in goitre, or swelled neck, Scrofula or King's Evil, Liver Complaint, erysipelas, &c. For Bowes or Colic, it is as efficacious as in diseases of man. Will cure any case of Sweeney in existence; also, Spavin, Splint, Ringbone, Big head, Fistula, Farcy, Foll Evil, Windgalls, Strains, Bruises, &c.

LOOK OUT FOR COUNTERFEITS.

The public are cautioned against another counterfeit, which has lately made its appearance, called W. R. Farrelle's Arabian Liniment, the most dangerous of all the counterfeits, because his having the name of Farrell, many will buy it in good faith, without the knowledge that a counterfeit exists, and they will perhaps only discover their error when the spurious mixture has wrought its evil effects.

Lesage's Specific,

NEVER failing remedy for thoroughly eradicating diseases of the Urinary Organs, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Whites, Strictures, Stone in the Bladder, &c., and needs but to be once used to be universally esteemed. The proprietor would respectfully caution those troubled with the above annoying complaints to beware of those quackeries, which unprincipled individuals, without the slightest knowledge of the structure of the human system, recommend for every disease. Lesage's Specific is only intended for the cure of Private Diseases and the thousands that have sent their unsolicited certificates vouch for its efficacy, while the better it is known the greater is the demand for it. How different from the various quack medicines which, when the unhappy patient has once used, no inducement can ever make him try again—Lesage's Specific has been the remedy depended on by every class, the senator, the lawyer, the mechanic, the seaman, and the dashing young man have all tried it and found it truly the good Samaritan in the hour of trouble.

Dr Darby annexes extracts from some of his certificates:

U. S Frigate Cumberland, 1851. I contracted a disease at Naples, and tried all the remedies suggested by the most experienced Surgeons without success. Lesage's Specific has restored to me the health I long despaired of.—J. W. W.

Bigelow's Alterative.

A CERTAIN cure for DYSENTERY, DIARRHŒA, CHOLERA MORBUS, and all Summer Complaints. GEORGE W. BEECHER Proprietor 98 Broadway, New York.

For children who are Teething, and Cholera Infantum, this medicine stands unrivalled. It may be used with perfect safety both by old and young, and when faithfully administered it has never been known in any case to fail of a speedy cure. Unlike other medicines, it corrects the bowels, and often in a few hours the patient is restored to his accustomed vigor and health.

We append the following testimonials:

I have used "Bigelow's Alterative" in my family, and have never found it to fail, when all other remedies administered by and under direction of Physicians have proved ineffectual. I think it a perfect corrective for Dysentery and all Bowel complaints.

Geo. W. Beecher, 37 Wall st New York, March 29, 1852.

We can add our testimony to that of others of its great efficacy in our own case, when prostrated to an alarming degree by Bowel disease. It was the only medicine that gave relief, and one now always kept in the family.

Editor of the N. Y. Baptist Register. Utica, April 15th, 1852.

"Bigelow's Alterative," advertised in another column of this paper is probably the best cure for Dysentery, Diarrhœa, &c., &c., that has ever yet adjudicated. We seldom make a point of extolling patent medicines, and for the very good reason that most of them are entirely undeserving of praise, but we have it on such undubitable and respectable authority, that the above "Alterative" is all and more than all it professes to be, that we cannot do less than make mention of it in this way to our readers. All that we ask of the most incredulous in such matters is to read the Certificates embodied in the advertisement, and then, judging from the high standing of the parties (who are thus ready, promptly and publicly to certify,) can hesitate to say, what cure a remedy so endorsed, is worth to sufferers otherwise. We have more to say of this remarkable preparation.

Editor of Railway, N. J., Advocate, and Register.
